

THE ECONOMIC VALUE OF ALAMANCE COMMUNITY COLLEGE'S Welding Program

The Welding program¹ was established in 1958. In FY 2019-20, ACC enrolled 171 students in the program. Of these students, seven graduated with a certificate and 10 graduated with an associate degree in FY 2019-20.

ALAMANCE COUNTY, NC

CAREER OUTLOOK

The Welding program can lead students into a number of occupations, which may include first-line supervisors of construction trades & extraction workers; plumbers, pipefitters, & steamfitters; and reinforcing iron & rebar workers. Many of the Welding program students will enter the Alamance County workforce.

Using the county number of annual openings for these occupations (62) and subtracting the FY 2019-20 ACC completers that may fill these openings (17), we arrive at a gap of 45 job openings.² There are 154 unique job postings at the associate degree or below for these occupations in Alamance County. The top three posting companies are: City of Burlington; Triangle Apartments; and Elon University.

ALUMNI IMPACT

Former students of ACC's Welding program added $605.3 thousand in income to the Alamance County economy in FY 2019-20. This figure represents the increased wages collected by former students active today in the county workforce as a direct result of their education, the increased output of businesses that employ these students, and the multiplier effects that occur.

STUDENT RETURN ON INVESTMENT

To earn a degree or certificate in the program, students experience costs in the form of tuition and fees, books and supplies, and the opportunity cost of attending school instead of working. In return for this investment, students can earn higher wages. For every dollar students invest in their education in the program, they will receive $3.90 back over the course of their working lives. This investment can also be seen in terms of a rate of return of 15.4%. This is an impressive return, especially when compared to the U.S. stock market 30-year average return of 10.6%.

TAXPAYER BENEFITS

Taxpayers will receive an estimated present value of $1 million in added tax revenue stemming from the students' higher lifetime earnings and the increased output of businesses. Savings to the public sector add another estimated $86 thousand in benefits due to a reduced demand for government-funded social services in North Carolina. Throughout the students' working lives, North Carolina taxpayers will receive a total of $1.1 million in benefits.
